MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

The New York Market Shows a Strong Tone, and Most Stocks Are Higher. NEW YORK, Sept. 1-Money on call was easy at Prime mercantile paper, 442619 per cent. Sterling exchange was dull and steady at $4.8419 for sixty day bills, and $4.87% for demand.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 65,449 shares, including the following: Canada Southern, 1,927: Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 5,550; Northern Pacific, 1,500; Northern Pacific preferred, 5,160; Oregon & Transcontinental, 11,680; Reading, 10,500 Richmond & West Point, 1,915; St. Paul, 2,900; Texas Pacific, 1,700; Union Pacific, 2,575.

The stock market to-day, while a little more active than that of last Saturday , was equally insignifican as regards the real trading of the day. The tone oft the dealings, however, was uniformly strong from beginning to end, and everything on the list at the close was higher than last evening. The interest centered entirely in Northern Pacific and Oregon & Transconinental during the first hour, but these stocks were supplanted, later, by Lackawanna, Reading and Colo rado Coal. The buying was good all the way out, while the traders were the principal sellers, generally of "short" stock. The opening was generally firm, the advances over last evening's closing figures extending to 38 per cent, while Wheeling & Lake Erie was exceptional with a loss of 34 per cent. The snimation in the early dealings was all in Oregon & a point, the rest of the list sympathizing, while Canada Southern and Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred also showed marked strength. There was a period of stagnation after the movement was cheeked, but later the coal stocks came to the front, and Lackawanna, Reading and Colorado Coal become the special features, the latter advancing nearly 2 per cent. The general list advanced small fractions, and the movement lasted until the close of business, which was quiet and strong at the best prices of the day. Everything is higher this evening, though the gains are for frac

The railroad bond market was equally dull and uninteresting as the share list, the trading being confined to an unusually small number of issues, and the fluctuations for the smallest fractions only. Kansas & Texas issues were again strong, though the gain was only fractional. There were only two marked changes in quotations, a decline of 2 per cent, in Canda Southern seconds and a gain of 2 per cent, in St. ada Sonthern seconds and a gain of 2 per cent. in St. Paul gold bonds at 125 2. The sales of bonds for the week were $6,459,000, against $5,414,000 for the previous week.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1—The wheat market opened as a very tame "bear" to-day, but later developed into a roaring "bull." The crowd appeared to be without motive early. There was an easier state of affairs reported by cable abroad. There were selling orders by the country. The exporters only looked on, but the great quantity of "long" wheat was regarded as against the market. The "shorts" at Now York counteracted the early selling and helped the rally. December started at 92140, went off to 917sc, rallied to 921sc, and up to noon it looked as if the day would end as it began. Then there were late cables giving more rain and firmer markets in the United Kingdom. There were more letters confirming the "bull" news from the Northwest. Those who started to buy found wheat scarce. In thirty minutes the price of December went from 9214c to 9314c, and the "bulls" could not get it fast enough. Some realizing put it back to 93c, and again it went up to 9314c, shortly before the close. September at the time was down from 9314c early to 9219c. Wheat closed active, at about the outside price of the day, with 931s 99314c for December. A feature of the closing hour was the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for Dakota, putting the percentage of the crop at 70 and making the yield not to exceed twelve bushels per acre. This is even worse than the government figures. Corn opened easier with wheat and because the frosts predicted did not occur. The opening price for the month was 41320447sc, and the close was at 441sc. October started at 447sc, touched 445sc early, reacted to 447sc 945c, and closed at 441sc. Oats were dull and weak, September closing 1sc lower; other futures were 1425sc lower. There was a pressure to sell September pork at the opening, and that article started a little lower, though lard and ribs opened about as they closed last night. First figures were the lowest of the day, and the market soon rallied, resting finally 5010c higher for pork, 15c higher for Septemb January, and at .124 .15c advance for near deliveries of ribs, all of which were about the best figures of the day. The leading futures ranged as follows:

INDIANAPOLI- MARKETS. Trade Active-Prices, as a Rule, Firm-A

Good Month's Business Anticipated. INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1. Trade opened up quite active for the first day of the month. Traveling salesmen brought in liberal orders, and state that all along the line the business outlook is flattering. The scare following the failure of the wheat crop is gradually passing away, and the good oats crop and unusually promising corn crop give country merchants confidence to buy with considerable freedom. Prices, as a rule, are very firm. Sugars have advanced in the last ten days one-quarter of a cent, and higher figures will not be surprise, while coffees rule steady. In commenting on coffees, the New York Bulletin says: "The distributive movement is not so full as a short time ago, and the business appears to be mainly in the bands of the few jobbers who have a really attractive assortment of stock, and this leads to some complaint. So far as the immediate situation is concerned the supply is in no better shape, and a buyer forced to invest in a hurry would be at a disadvantage, but the prospect for the incoming month indicates. at least, an average quantity, and jobbers are offish in expectation of easier terms. On the whole, how-ever, the market was stiffer this afternoon, and the apparent inclination to shade values, noticeable among sellers yesterday afternoon, has disappeared. This is attributed in part to the better tone developed on contracts, and rather stiffer accounts from Rio, where the effort to realize is less apparent."

The same authority says of sugars: "Refined have found sufficient increase of demand to the same authority says of sugars: found sufficient increase of demand to create a quick. setive market and infuse a stronger tone. Prices are again advanced on pretty much all grades, and while there has been enough stock available to meet current calls, it was a close shave in some cases and the close finds limited offerings throughout." The produce markets were active to day, and the stock of fruits was well reduced by late in the afternoon, but prices were made which tended to encourage the trade. Lighter receipts of peaches are looked for next week and with this a strengthening of prices. Pears and apples, as well as melons, are in abundant supply and prices are largely made to suit the views of the buyer. Butter more plenty, but unchanged in price. Eggs in good demand; prices firm at the advance of Friday. Poultry coming in freely; prices weak. Hardware and tinners' supplies firmer. Iron advancing in tendency. The seed market is active; prices ruling steady and strong.

There was a better attendance on 'Change to-day and more spirit shown in the bidding, prices ruling a shade stronger. Futures are attracting more att

Handling Country Butter.

Correspondent Prairie Farmer. I often find lots of good advice to buttermakers, but hardly any to cheese-makers, although if more cheese were made and used we would have less poor butter. Cheese is about the best food one can use at any time, and it is very easily made. My experience is that country dealers in butter are to blame mostly for all our poor butter. They pay a uniform price for all that is made, in place of paying a good price for the best and a very low price for the poor. Then they mix together instead of separating and grading. I once called on a buyer at Broadhead, Wis.,

to buy his butter. He told me he had a fine lot, and asked me what I would give for it. I came near naming a good price, as butter was advancing, grass drying up (this was in 1870), but just then a customer came in with some butter wrapped up in a showy linen cloth, and the but-ter did look nice. The lady had put it in nice rolls and ornamented it off with the butterladle. He had bought it for 10 cents a pound. He weighed it and dumped it into a dirty, greasy barrel. When the lady saw her nice butter dropped into that mess she gave a start of actual suffering from seeing her nicely-made butter abused in that way.

He took me down into his cellars and in one corner of them was a strong platform about two feet from the floor, and piled on that was, as nearly as I could estimate, 2,000 pounds of his nice butter, left there to cool, and resting against the rock wall. When the platform would not hold any more, he would have a man to work it and salt and pack it. I was shown over 10,000 pounds of butter that had been treated in this way, and it was nothing but a salty, greasy mess, unfit for anything that I know of. Now, this is nearly a sample of how most of the butter is handled. However, this is the only place where I ever saw a platform, but the butter barrel is found in nearly all country stores in the West. The next nuisance is that lots of good butter is shipped to commission-houses in place of to regular butter and cheese dealers. I have seen good butter stand along side of rotten eggs, hides, chickens, etc., everybody lifting the covers and letting in these odors; and there the butter is allowed to stand and melt and get strong. until sold for grease. I think there is more blame on our Western dealers than our Western butter-makers. I have seen as good butter made out West as ever was made East, and there are lots of good butter-makers West, chips of the old block East, but they have not quite all the im-provements yet which they have East. Give them these and they will furnish you with the finest golden butter. I am a believer in dairying in the West.
